

Afterwards the first phase we began to break the compact boxes that we had created and we shaped a mesh from walls. ¶ Prevailed the logic that certain fat walls will support the shelter will be the holder organism of building and the remainder elements will be glass. It thus began a game [kenoykai] [pliroysopoy] the vertical elements they changed continuously place.